A Handsome Insert, on Special Paper, Ready for Framing

This photograph of Mr. Bushman, widely known as the

"Handsome Man in the World" is printed in soft sepia tints, on an insert by itself, on special paper, all ready for framing. It is the second photograph in the Series of Photographs of Motion Picture Actors and Actresses that The Tribune is reproducing on its great new ROTOGRAVURE PRESS. Every admirer of the great Stars of the Motion Picture Stage will want to collect and preserve the entire Series.

Announcement

Owing to the fact that the German engineers who have installed The Tribune's Rotogravure Press wish more time in which to give the finishing touches to this wonderful piece of machinery, The Tribune's Eight-Page Tabloid Weekly Pictorial, previously announced, will be postponed.

JEKYLL AND HYDE IN GIRL SUICIDE

VIRGINIA MAYOR, HEAD OF TWO HOMES, WILL BE QUIZZED
ON DEATH.

New Haven, Conn., March 5.—An autopsy yesterday on the body of Lil May Cook, the Brooklyn girl who killed herself on the top of West Rock on the day a week ago, when she disappeared from the office of Virginia Mayor, head of two homes, will be quizzed on death.

The coroner added that he has found nothing which points toward any wrong on the part of any one which would cause Miss Cook to kill herself. No one in Miss Cook's circle of acquaintances is suspected in any way, he said.

Frank Cook, father of the dead girl, came to New Haven late last night and had a conference with the police, during which Mr. Cook displayed much feeling.

Mayor has retained the firm of Elade, Shute & Shute of New York to be the lawyer between him and inquirers. Mrs. Mayo, the legal wife, remained secluded in their home. She would not see any one, although she did consent to say a few words over the telephone.

"Did you know 'Mrs. Dudley' of Brooklyn, or, as she was known here in New Haven, Lois Waterbury?" Mrs. Mayo was asked.

There seemed to be something of a secret in her voice as she replied: "I don't know any 'Mrs. Dudley,' though I did know Miss Waterbury."

Asked if she cared to say anything about her husband's double life, Mrs. Mayo answered:

"No, I am interested only in my own household, as any one will tell you who knows me."
